

Things to do

Oct 25th 2021

Simone Lini

Looking ahead

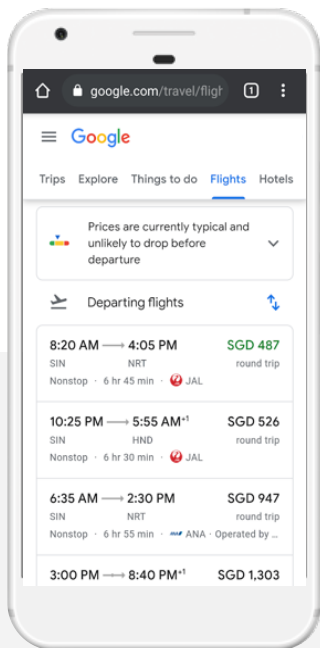

With vaccines widely available in many parts of the world, businesses, governments, and tourist destinations are working to responsibly reinvigorate the travel sector.

While we're cautiously optimistic about recovery we're also keeping a close eye on how regional differences and variants might impact this progress.

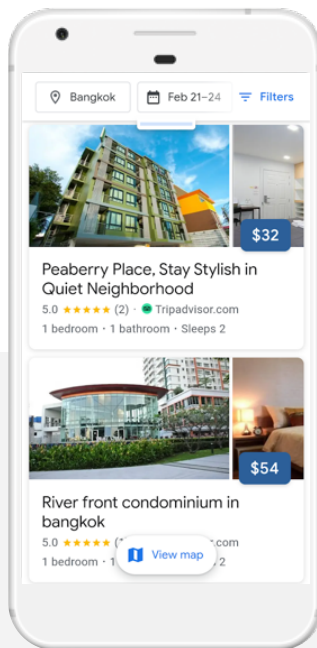

Different parts of the world are seeing different levels of demand, and it would be premature to say we're completely out of the woods

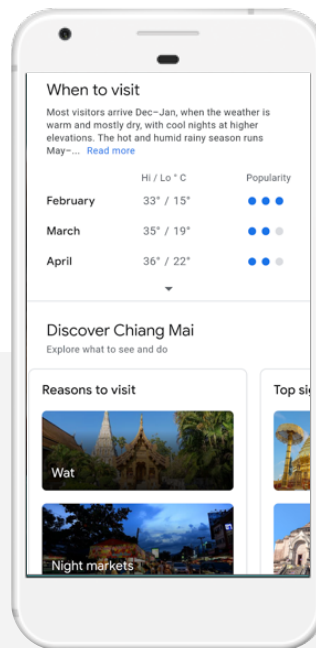

We're building better travel experiences

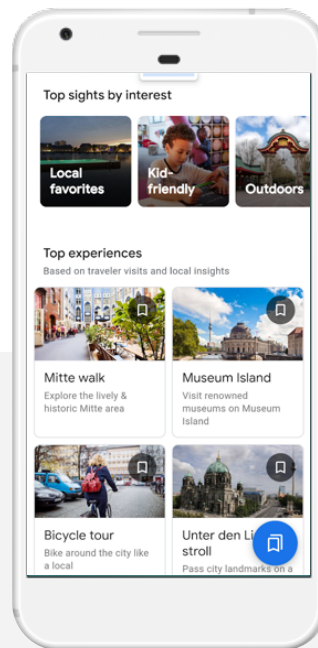

Flights

Hotels and
VR

Explore

Things to Do

Being a trusted source for travelers to explore, decide and do the things that interest them in a destination

Our goal for Things to do

Things to do Search

Things to do Ads

Goodbye, Reserve with Google

In August 2021 we have turned down the Reserve with Google program for Things to do

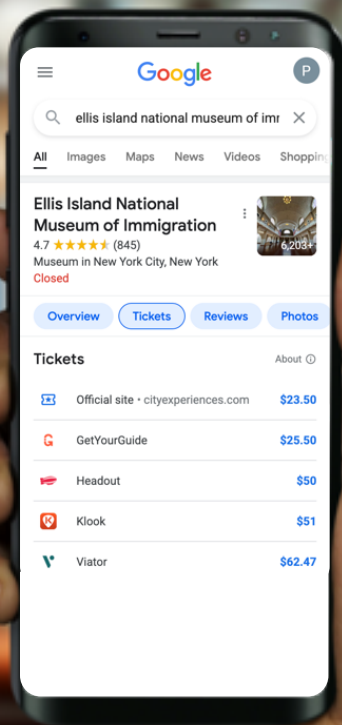

We have launched the first version of Things to do Search

Reach users across different stages of travel and Google surfaces. Increased focus on discovery & planning.

Users link out directly to the Fareharbor booking form. Partners own the customer relationship.

Easy to integrate with. If you're already partnering with one of our integration partners (like Fareharbor), no actions are needed!

What about Tours and Activities?

In the next months, Google will release new surfaces for Things to do that will allow T&A inventory to surface

We will add an “Experiences” section to the Booking Module and launch a new Experiences module for queries such as “Bike tours in Zurich”

What they may look like

All concept mocks are illustrative and subject to change

How can you be prepared?

Check with Fareharbor that you've enabled Things to do

Work with your Connectivity Team to make sure you're eligible to appear on Things to do

Make sure your content is optimized

The quality of your images, descriptions, price accuracy and landing pages are important factors in determining how your activities will be ranked

Keep the data fresh

It's important to make sure your data is always up to date. Any time you make changes, just remember to update your listing on Fareharbor. We'll take care of the rest

Same activity, different content

Proprietary + Confidential

Your activity

Entry ticket, Eiffel Tower, champagne tasting included

Tour in Paris: ticket for top floor access to Eiffel Tower with Champagne

1.7 ★★☆☆☆ 7 reviews

Champagne tasting at the top of the
Eiffel Tower

4.7 ★★★★★ 3321 reviews

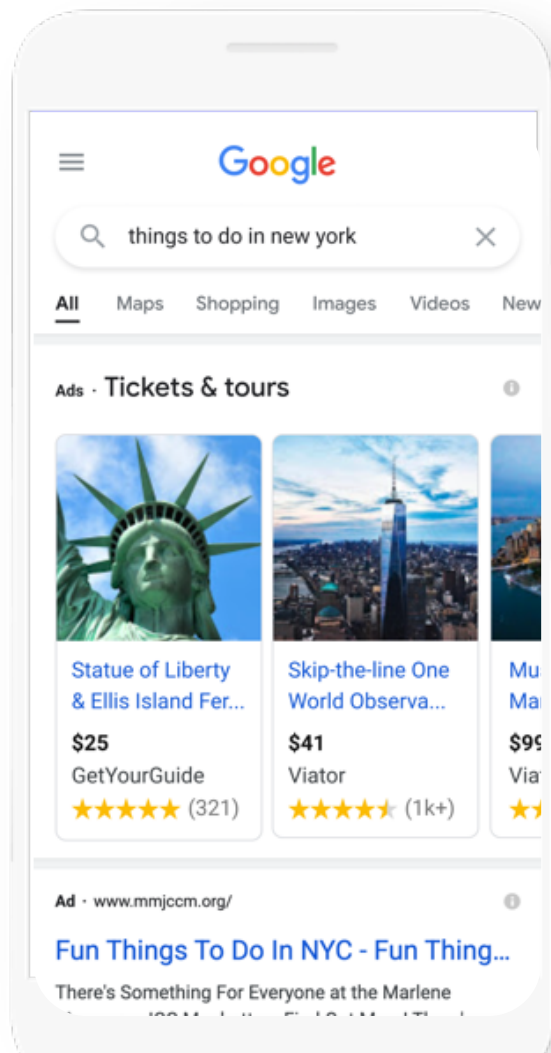

Things to Do Search

Things to Do Ads

Introducing Things to do Ads

A new way to promote your business by catering to the needs of continuous travel planning, in an engaging and mobile-first way.

Carousel of offers

Feed & Intent Based

Rich Content

Can be combined with text ads

Top Ad Slot

Most Search Ads
capabilities

Things to do ads surface in response to a broad base of activity queries

Query Format	Examples
[Things to do] + [destination]	Things to do in Paris, fun activities in Paris, top attractions in Chicago
[Specific activity] + [Destination]	Walking tours of Paris, boat tours in Venice, museums in Paris, beaches in Sydney, amusement parks in Tokyo
[Point of Interest]	Eiffel Tower, Statue of Liberty, Grand Canyon
[Specific activity] + [Point of Interest]	Great boat tours of Acadia National Park
[Point of Interest] + [tickets, tours, shows]	Disneyland tickets, Moulin Rouge shows, tours of the Eiffel Tower
[Point of Interest] + [Destination]	Eiffel Tower Paris

Things to do Ads placement details

Content	Rich content, with ratings, prices, reviews and partner names
Feed Based	No additional integration required from partners - it's using the same source of information as Things to do Search
Bidding	Partners can set budgets and bids via their Google Ads account (compatible with nearly all search bidding strategies)
Targeting	Query targeting is based on user intents, not keywords. Google matches your inventory to specific attraction and activity queries for broadest reach
Placement	The unit shows on top of the Search Results Page
Destinations	Active on 54 destinations across the world.
Languages	English, Italian, Japanese, Spanish, German, Chinese (Traditional)

Expect change

We are very serious about Things to do and you can expect us to keep investing in this vertical.

We'll keep our partners in the loop and do our best to make sure you're well prepared.

As we expand the scope of our product, please remember that things will change fast.

If you have any questions or feedback, please contact your Fareharbor Connectivity Team.

Thank You