Wedding Policies FAQ's:

What are the payment policies?

A non-refundable deposit of 50% of the base rate is due to confirm cruise date and time. The second half of the base rate is due 30 days prior to cruise, along with food and beverage package selection and estimated head count. Final count and payment for applicable food and beverage packages is due 10 days prior to cruise. Payments can be made via credit card over the phone or check by mail.

What if I need to reschedule/cancel?

Payments are non-refundable. With 30 days notice of cruise date, payments may be applied to future cruise, less a $250 cancellation fee.

What if the weather is bad the day of my cruise?

The Grand Lady is typically able to sail rain or shine. In case of very severe weather or high winds, the vessel may have to stay dockside for everyone's comfort and safety. In this rare occurrence, the event would still take place on board the boat while the vessel is dockside, a $400/hour dockside rate would be charged in lieu of regular base rate, and the over-payment will be refunded.

Are we allowed to bring decorations?

Yes, couples are welcome to decorate the Grand Lady to suit their tastes while remaining within the guidelines laid out below. We strongly suggest consulting with a member of the Grand Lady office staff before making your final arrangements. Grand Lady Cruises reserves the right to disallow the use of any decorative features deemed hazardous or damaging to the furnishings aboard.

Centerpieces should remain relatively small and low to the table to not overpower the relatively narrow tables on board the vessel.

We do NOT allow use of the following aboard the Grand Lady:

- glitter or confetti
- bubbles
- wax candles except for floating candles (we suggest battery operated illumination instead)
- sparklers or any other sort of open flame
- loose rose petals or "water beads" as they stain upholstery and rugs

Who is responsible for decorating the day of?

Our crew is happy to put out your centerpieces and other basic decorations while setting up the boat the day of your cruise at no additional cost. Favors, centerpieces, place cards, cake cutting set, toasting glasses, guest book, etc. may be dropped off at the Grand Lady office at a scheduled time a day or so beforehand with written instructions detailing set up. For centerpieces requiring assembly or more complicated/labor intensive set-ups, a $100 fee may apply.

You are responsible for taking all items home with you the night of the cruise.

How is the vessel furnished? What is included regarding linens?

The Grand Lady is furnished with navy blue banquet chairs and rectangular tables. Our caterers provide basic white tablecloths and linen napkins. You may rent or bring in specialty linens or chair covers at your own expense if desired. If interested, contact Mia at the Wedding Agent at 716-877-7123. It is recommended that the rental agency would handle the set up and removal of any specialty linens/chair covers. If not available, Grand Lady Cruises charges $4 per chair to set up and remove chair covers for you.

Where does the ceremony take place?

Weather permitting, the ceremony is held outside on the upper back deck prior to departure. Approximately 18 chairs are available for immediate family and older guests, with other guests standing behind the rows of chairs. In case of inclement weather, the ceremony would take place in the main dining area in front of the bar.

Can I bring my own officiant?

Yes, absolutely. We do provide a civil ceremony officiant in our packages who performs a very short, sweet, justice-of-the-peace type ceremony. If you would like something personalized or more elaborate, we recommend bringing your own officiant with you to perform the ceremony.

Can I bring my own cake?

Yes! We have a couple of recommendations (below), but you can order your cake (or cupcakes) from any bakery you choose. When planning your cake, please keep in mind there is no refrigeration available on board. Also, cake designs should be restricted in height due to the possible movement and sway of the vessel. Please have your bakery call Grand Lady Cruises directly at 716-873-4630 to schedule delivery. In most cases, we suggest doing the ceremonial cutting of the cake prior to dinner to ensure a smooth flow of service during your meal.

Is smoking allowed on board the boat?

No, the Grand Lady is a non-smoking vessel, even on the outside decks. If guests ignore warnings from crew members and are still caught smoking on board, a $500 clean up fee will be charged to the card on file.

What about entertainment/music?

The Grand Lady has background music and the ability to play music off a phone via bluetooth if you would like to make a playlist for your event. Live entertainment by way of DJ or live musician is also allowed. If interested in live music, we recommend a solo musician due to space limitations.

What happens if my head count is not accurate?

We do not cook on board, so it is important that we receive an accurate meal count 10 days prior to your cruise. If offering a split menu, Grand Lady staff should be provided some means of determining what meal was ordered by each guest, either by seating chart, list organized by table, or place cards.

How are tables arranged?

The meal portion would take place on the lower level of the vessel. On this level there are 7 tables that can accommodate 8 guests, and 1 table that can accommodate 10. The 10 top table is in the rear of the vessel and would be used for the buffet if you chose a buffet meal option. Therefore, for a buffet meal, we can accommodate a maximum of 56 passengers in that lower dining room. Depending on your final headcount, we may have the flexibility to provide you with a sweetheart table. Please discuss these details with Grand Lady staff during the planning process before you settle on your final guest list.

Is the boat handicapped accessible?

It really depends on the individualized needs of the guest. It is fully ramped to get onboard the vessel so those with walkers, canes, etc. are typically just fine while aboard. The gangway is fairly narrow and can be steep depending on water levels so getting wheelchairs on board can prove challenging. We are typically not able to board guests in oversized or motorized wheelchairs unless they are able to take a few steps out with assistance. The second consideration is that we do board onto the second deck of the vessel. The restrooms and main dining area are located down below and there is no elevator on board. Guests do need to traverse the stairway to access the restroom on board. Please give us a call at 716-873-4630 to discuss individual needs more in detail.
