The French House

Houmas House and Gardens

The Houmas property was originally settled by Frenchman Pierre Baron in 1721, then sold to Joseph Blanpain, of Mons, Belgium, in 1739. That year, Blanpain established Houmas, one of the first plantations upriver from New Orleans, and began supplying New Orleans with deer skins, trade products and cypress lumber. In 1774, the French House was owned by Alexander Latil and Maurice Conway, and still stands behind the carriageway of the mansion. The quaint colonial-era two story brick house, was of simple design and contained only 6 rooms, a closet staircase and four fireplaces. It was built about 50 yards in front of the great Houmas Indian Mound, and sat among ancient oaks dating back to the early French settlers and Houmas Indians. The Indian Mound was leveled in the late 1800's but many of the great oaks remained and the older oaks were enhanced by the trees and gardens planted by the many families of Houmas. Today, the French House is painted a vivid terra cotta color, to visually separate its structure from the 1829 Hampton Mansion. The French House features original solid brick walls with cypress timbers and floorboards, which remain visible today. The staircase was added in the 1880's by William Porcher Miles when he connected the French House to the 1829 mansion. The palladian window in the staircase was added by Dr. Crozat in the 1940's. The restored French House now serves as the award-winning fine dining restaurant, Latils.
