Triangle Food Tours Becomes Triangle Food & City Tours

RALEIGH, N.C., July 14, 2023– After 15 years of elevating palates in the Triangle cities, North Carolina, Triangle Food Tours, Inc. is rebranding to Triangle Food & City Tours officially launching on April 15, 2023. While still offering weekly public and private food tours, Triangle Food & City Tours will also offer various guide-led downtown adventures.

Triangle Food Tours, Inc., the first food tour company established in Raleigh, has been leading public and private food tours in the Triangle since 2008. With the success of their food tour business, Triangle Food Tours, Inc. has decided to expand in order to incorporate new ventures. Owner Jacquelyn Manson said, “In addition to our food tours, we have been leading city tours, haunted tours, scavenger hunts, and step-on-guide services in the Triangle for years, we are just making it official now. The Triangle is growing and I want to offer more fun adventures, more ways for families, friends, and businesses to explore the unique history of Raleigh and Durham and surrounding Triangle towns. We want to spice things up!”

The first two additions will be a guide-led walking tour of the Historic Oakwood neighborhood. This 2-hour walking tour will focus on the architecture, development, and notable families of the neighborhood and Raleigh. The second walking tour will explore the diverse historical figures who contributed to the development of Raleigh and historical events that have taken place on Fayetteville Street.

The next two additions are a guide-led murder mystery tour and a scavenger hunt of downtown Raleigh. Both will feature real historical Raleigh figures. Visitors must use clues collected along the way to solve the mysteries where participants will work as a team to solve clues.

Finally, Triangle Food & City Tours is expanding their Raleigh food tour offering this fall to include a weekend lunchtime Southern Food, BBQ & Booze tour and a Sunday Brunch, Munch & Murals tour in addition to their established popular Boylan Heights and Historic Oakwood neighborhood food tours and seasonal Spirits of Raleigh Haunted Drink Crawl.
